The Episcopal Church welcomes you!

David Flood

David Flood is no stranger to the Conference on Church Music. Delighted to return again in 2023, he first came to the Conference in 2001 and attended alternate years until 2015.

David retired as Organist and Master of the Choristers at Canterbury Cathedral at the end of 2020, a post he had held from 1988. He was previously Organist and Master of the Choristers at Lincoln Cathedral. During his tenure in Canterbury he was responsible for the music at the daily programme of services, helping to inspire the many thousands of pilgrims and visitors. The choir under his direction made a succession of highly acclaimed recordings and broadcast regularly on radio and television.

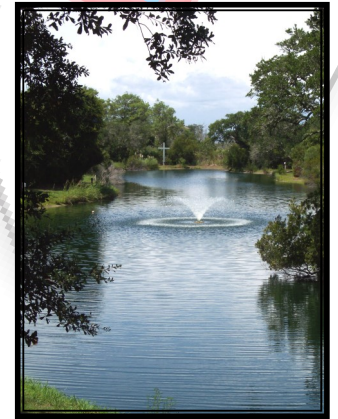

Amongst the major occasions in which David took a full part were the Enthronements of Archbishops George Carey, Rowan Williams and Justin Welby, the Lambeth Conferences in 1998 and 2008 and a number of Royal visits. He was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Music from the University of Kent in 2001 and he is an Honorary Fellow of Canterbury Christ Church University and of St John's College, Durham. Last year he was elected an Honorary Fellow of St. John's College, Oxford, his alma mater.

Canterbury Cathedral Choir has toured in the USA many times under David's direction, the last occasion in 2018, and he has been fortunate to give organ concerts across the country. He is looking forward to renewing acquaintance with many friends and to meeting many new ones.

2023 WORKSHOPS

#1 An Open Forum with our Clinician Friday 1:15 – 2:30 (Conference Room) David Flood

Wisdom and highlights from David's 40 years at Canterbury Cathedral, along with his views on current concerns and challenges for church music. Bring your many questions for him and come eager to be both entertained and inspired.

#2 The Four Functions of the Church Choir Friday 4:00 – 5:15 (Conference Room) The Rev. Robin Smith, Ed. D.

Do you know the four functions of a church choir? Are some more important than others? How well does your choir fulfill these functions? Come to share your experiences and learn from others in a lively discussion led by one of our newly ordained deacons.

#3 Yoga for Singers Friday 4:00 – 5:15 (St. James Room) Mamie Dixon, M.M.

Gentle Yoga exercises emphasizing the contributions of breathing and posture to the vocal production involved in singing, led by a Registered Yoga Alliance Teacher.

#4 How to Worship Legally! Saturday 1:15 – 2:30 (Conference Room) Joan Geiszler-Ludlum, JD Chancellor of the Diocese of East Carolina

Coverage of what we should all know about copyright laws and the required licenses for singing, printing, and recording our music, as well as the projecting, streaming, and broadcasting that many churches are now doing routinely. Consideration of Safe Church protocols and other matters for actively involved and interested choir/church members. Come eager to learn from an authority on these important matters.

MUSIC SWAP

Throughout the weekend, there will be a Music Swap area adjacent to the Conference Room. Please bring any choral, organ, piano, and instrumental music that you would like to contribute, along with any hymnals and other musical/liturgical resource materials, including CD's.

Free music for all to browse!
